

Cyber AI Privacy Policy And Terms And Conditions

Certain components of your Cyber AI Services are provided through third-party Malwarebytes ("MWB Service"). As part of your sign-up for services, Buckeye Broadband shares certain information about you (including without limitation your name, your email address, and your zip code). Buckeye Broadband provides Malwarebytes with this information ("Customer Identifying Information") for the purpose of establishing your account with Malwarebytes and giving you access to MWB Services, and you agree that Buckeye is permitted to do so.

In addition to any applicable Buckeye Broadband terms, conditions, and policies, the MWB Service is subject to the terms, conditions, and policies applied by Malwarebytes, including without limitation its privacy policies. These policies govern your MWB Service as well as any personal information and other information you provide directly or indirectly to Malwarebytes pursuant to receiving MWB Service.

By accepting Cyber AI Services, you expressly agree to be bound by both Buckeye Broadband's applicable terms, conditions, and policies; and Malwarebytes' applicable policies. Any services you receive from Buckeye Broadband, including without limitation Buckeye Broadband high-speed data and Brainiacs services, are governed by the Buckeye Broadband privacy policy (<https://www.buckeyebroadband.com/privacy-policy>), as well as all other policies, terms, and conditions applicable to such services (www.buckeyebroadband.com/legal), as well as any written or electronic documents you sign or otherwise accept as a condition of service).

A copy of the Malwarebytes end-user-license agreement is available at www.malwarebytes.com/eula; however, there may be other terms and policies that govern your MWB Service and relationship with Malwarebytes, and you agree fully to review such policies and terms, to monitor the Malwarebytes website for any updates, and to be bound by applicable Malwarebytes terms and conditions of service.

As a condition of signing up for using the Cyber AI Services, and to the fullest extent permissible under law, you waive any claims against Buckeye Broadband and its affiliated companies that arise from or are related to the MWB Service. This waiver covers all such claims, including without limitation any claims for disclosure of Customer Identifying Information to Malwarebytes, any claims for disclosure by Malwarebytes of information (including without limitation personally identifiable information), and any claims as to your use of or access to MWB Service.